Nana Mouskouri - The Farewell Tour

Presented by Andrew McManus, The Sunday Times & 6PR.

Thursday, 22 September, 8:00pm

Burswood Theatre

One last song from Nana with love...

Worldwide, Nana Mouskouri is among the most popular female singers of the last 50 years. She is a milestone in the history of popular music. Again and again, she crossed seemingly insurmountable musical borders. From Jazz via chanson to pop and the popular German easy listening of her early creative period, this exceptional artist never regarded music as a dogmatic art form but always as a part of her individual development and the experiences growing from this. Unlike many artists, her personality stands for a cosmopolitan outlook without ever forgetting her Greek roots. All this and her practiced humanist philosophy of life have finally made her into a celebrated international star.

Nana Mouskouri is taking a bow before all her friends and fans with a farewell tour, which is going to take her around the globe once again.
